WORDS FROM OUR PRESIDENT

With the Rotary Club of West Lakes joining us last Tuesday our dinner meeting was even more vibrant than usual. We will organise additional invitations to the West Lakes Club as they also meet on a Tuesday evening, and their current dinner meeting location is unavailable.

Peter Graves and Sarah Maddock from the City of Charles Sturt gave us a comprehensive presentation on the council's economic development. As I said, the council does much more than provide a rubbish bin collection service. Their support in encouraging ideas and funding grants has certainly contributed to both the local community and businesses.

This Tuesday we will hear from David Hunter whose presentation topic is, “Facebook… What is it, what for and how?” This should be an enlightening event even for those of you who currently use social media. Facebook has many features and benefits that offer enormous potential for spreading the word of the activities of our Rotary Club. Come prepared with some questions.

MEETING NEWS

Kevin Tiggemann

- Welcomed guests, President Ken Parcell and the members of the Rotary Club of West Lakes

Ken Parcell

- Thanked RCKP for our hospitality
- Commented on similar projects and common goals shared by RCKP and RCWL

Ken Parcell addressing members of the RCKP and RCWL

Kevin Tiggemann

- Kevin presented Bob Hudson with a Paul Harris Fellow pin

Jenny Harris

- Bookmart
  - Introduced modified roster
  - Thanked RCKP members for their efforts and flexible approach
  - Reminded members to arrange a swap with someone else if unavailable for a shift
  - Asked members to refer to the communication book at the beginning of each shift and to add any pertinent information before they leave e.g. what shelf letters you have culled?
  - Reminder that when culling and refilling shelves, to avoid leaving shelves empty or near empty
  - Tom Bunnik kindly took a trailer of old books for recycling which resulted in a profit whereas the previous system incurred costs

John Jackson

- Bunnings BBQ - Thurs, Jan 30th
  - Distributed round-robin to schedule volunteers

Ed King

- Nema Murad who was a previous guest speaker at RCKP has requested funds to help support Kurdish communities in Iraq

Garth Palmer

- Art Gallery visit - Friday, 6th March
  - Should be enjoyable - any questions, ask Garth

Kevin Tiggemann

- Kevin plans to present the RCKP Board with a proposal to assist those affected by the recent and on-going bushfires.

Project update

January 21 2020

Unfortunately, this update has some disappointing news. Firstly, I would like to apologise to everyone for not having this project completed or well advanced at this time. Taking on this project has been the most frustrating task I have ever had to do and it has been a roller coaster ride due to the way the Rotary club of Winneba has communicated with us. The current situation is that the RC of Winneba has effectively withdrawn by not selecting a school. On many occasions, I have received enthusiastic responses supporting the project including a long phone conversation with their president, but in the end, they have opted out by not responding at all. Culturally, this may be their way to let you down, however, it is a long way from passing our 4 way test and I'm pretty annoyed about their actions as it has wasted our time and money.

I'm happy to look at the positives in this project.

We have learnt a lot during the journey to this point. Reading about a variety of Water & Sanitation projects has positioned us for the next stage.

I have a new Rotary shirt to replace my 30 year old original shirt.

Rob Hughes and I have been vaccinated against every disease known to mankind and we are now facing the possibility of becoming immortal.

What happens next?
I think the International Committee and the Board should review our position.

I think we should continue with another RC in Ghana after a careful selection process. 30 out of 50 clubs in Ghana have some experience in this type of project. We have a commitment to the clubs and individuals who have already donated to us and are expecting a successful project. I have not given up, and if the board wishes, I am willing to continue to bring this project to a successful conclusion.

Lastly, I would like to thank everyone who has supported me and this project on the journey to this point, and I look forward to a successful conclusion.

Rob Chambers

GUEST SPEAKERS - PETER GRAVES AND SARAH MADDOCK FROM THE CITY OF CHARLES STURT

Peter and Sarah spoke enthusiastically about their efforts (collaborating with three other councils) to promote Western Adelaide, whose achievements and assets they thought were often overlooked, even though it contributes 25% of the state's total economy. The City of Charles Sturt (CCS) which has the fastest jobs and employment growth in Adelaide is the primary focus of many of their endeavours.

Warren Hobbs, Sarah Maddock and Peter Graves

With a background leading a business advisory firm for 15 years, Peter is now the CCS Coordinator of Economic Development responsible for fostering growth in local businesses by providing advice, identifying funding, assisting investment attraction, liaising with stakeholders and problem solving. Peter also fosters regional collaboration through the Western Business Leaders, a network of 1000 businesses that deliver 80 events to around 2,500 people per annum.

Sarah has worked in local government for 9 years and her experience includes events management, urban planning and community consultation. In her role as the council's Place Leader, Sarah aims to help the community create vibrant neighbourhood spaces from Semaphore Park to West Beach.

Between them, Peter and Sarah have worked with a diverse range of business owners and community members to facilitate projects ranging from the Woodville Road Streetscape Upgrade to signage and marketing for the Beachside restaurant (with funds returning to the WBSLSC) and the 'Make it Mine' markets. They emphasised the mutual benefits that can be derived when business and community flourish.

Peter concluded the presentation by saying that he looks forward to developing ties with western Rotary clubs.
