Guest Speaker Martin Burke

Martin & Kel Burke

Martin, Kel Burke's son, spoke on his being awarded the Donald Mackay Churchill Fellowship to study the methods used by law enforcement agencies in investigating organised crime with particular reference to tracking and seizing the benefits of crime. Martin's role with SAPOL and the AFP involves investigating cryptocurrency and scams that are capable of having an impact on all of us.

Martin's study tour of 6 weeks took him to Singapore, Europe, Britain and the USA where he met with numerous police agencies in these countries. Martin gave a fascinating talk on the above subjects, which is very complex and made your Ed's head spin trying to write this article i.e too hard.

One incredible fact was that "crime", in all forms, and the use of the internet is the third largest economy in the world after the USA and China. Scary.

Cryptocurrency Risks

Facts About Paying With Cryptocurrency

There are many ways that paying with cryptocurrency is different from paying with a credit card or other traditional payment methods.

1. Cryptocurrency payments do not come with legal protections. Credit cards and debit cards have legal protections if something goes wrong. For example, if you need to dispute a purchase, your credit card company has a process to help you get your money back. Cryptocurrencies typically do not come with any such protections.

2.Cryptocurrency payments typically are not reversible. Once you pay with cryptocurrency, you can usually only get your money back if the person you paid sends it back. Before you buy something with cryptocurrency, know the seller's reputation, by doing some research before you pay.
Some information about your transactions will likely be public. People talk about cryptocurrency transactions as anonymous. But the truth is not that simple.

3.Cryptocurrency transactions will typically be recorded on a public ledger, called a "blockchain." That's a public list of every cryptocurrency transaction — both on the payment and receipt sides. Depending on the blockchain, the information added to the blockchain can include details like the transaction amount, as well as the sender's and recipient's wallet addresses. It's sometimes possible to use transaction and wallet information to identify the people involved in a specific transaction. And when you buy something from a seller who collects other information about you, like a shipping address, that information can also be used to identify you later on.

passion and a commitment to make a difference in Australian society. Since 1965 we have awarded over 4500 Fellowships.

There are no prescribed qualifications to apply for the Churchill Fellowship award. Australian citizens, from all walks of life, can apply for a Churchill Fellowship. The topic of your proposed project is limitless, provided benefit to Australia is evident and a willingness to share your findings with the Australian community is displayed.

After World War II many honours were conferred on Sir Winston Churchill from all over the world and many physical memorials were erected in the form of statues and buildings. In 1962 the Duke of Edinburgh asked Sir Winston what type of memorial he would like so that the world could remember him. The concept of an unusual type of memorial, to be set up after his death, pleased him very much and Sir Winston suggested something like the Rhodes Scholarships, but available to all people and on a much wider basis.

This led to the concept of travelling Fellowships, bearing his name, to give opportunity to enable ordinary people from the participating countries to travel overseas to meet people and to learn. The concept was developed jointly by the English-Speaking Unions of the Commonwealth and of the United States. Australia was among the countries that laid plans for a nationwide appeal on the death of Sir Winston Churchill to set up a National Churchill Trust.

Although Churchill had thoroughly approved the project when it was first cleared with him by the English-Speaking Union in the 1950's, in order not to upset Sir Winston in his declining years about planning for actions after his death, it was kept secret at Lady Churchill's request, until Churchill died. The planning for the appeal to raise funds for the establishment of a Churchill Trust in Australia nevertheless continued under the code name Operation "G" (for Gratitude) under the leadership of the then Counsellor (later Sir) William Kilpatrick. It was so thorough that immediately on Churchill's death on the 24th of January 1965, a nationwide appeal for funds was launched by Sir Robert Menzies with Counsellor Kilpatrick as the Chairman of the Appeal Committee. There was a generous response by the Commonwealth and State Governments and by Australian companies and individuals. The Returned Services League brilliantly planned and executed a nationwide doorknock on 'Churchill Memorial Sunday' Sunday the 28th of February, 1965 – only four weeks after Churchill's funeral.

The very willing national response of Australia's Returned Servicemen in conducting what was the greatest one-day doorknock in Australian history showed the admiration and respect that Australian fighting men and women of World War II held for Churchill.

The very generous response of the Australian people to this appeal was undoubtedly due to their admiration for and gratitude to the great world figure in whose memory the Trust was being established. The one-day doorknock raised 911,000 Pounds ($1,822,000). By the time the contributions and pledges from the Commonwealth and State Governments, Australian companies, institutions and individuals had been collected, the Appeal target had more than doubled. 2,206,000 Pounds ($4,412,000) was raised.

Club News:

The Winston Churchill Memorial Trust was established to administer not only the total funds raised by the 1965 Appeal, but also the Churchill Fellowship award scheme. The Trust has its National Office at Churchill House, Canberra. The Board of Directors is responsible for the management of the funds invested and the conferring of Churchill Fellowships. All Directors serve in an honorary capacity.

The Trust is assisted in the initial selection of applicants for Fellowships by Regional Committees in all States and Territories. All Committee Members also serve in an honorary capacity.

Hi Kidman Parkers, Partners and Friends

We all have an opportunity to come along to our KPR Meeting on Tues 17th June to hear from Alan Young who is a passionate resident of West Beach and to hear how his passion and aspirations for the West Beach Coastal are making a key difference for the area

Alan and his team of volunteers have been working to restore vegetation along the sand dunes to help stop sand erosion on our beaches

Alan leads a team of volunteers in managing a plant nursery at the rear of Henley High School, for transplanting in the dunes

Alan is a very vocal commentator for our beach areas, including the sand replacement program on our Western Beaches and is a regular writer of Letters to the Editor

Alan is author and producer of his Monthly West Beach Coastal Newsletter, keeping people up to date with the health of our beaches. That monthly Newsletter has over 1000 email subscribers. It is his path to getting the Govt to sit down and listen....and to hopefully trigger action.

Lets find out if there are ways that we may be able to help .....as a Community Service Club and/or as Individuals.

Partners as always are very welcome to attend on 17th June, and if members wish to bring an interested friend or two, then for catering purposes please invite them and place their names on the Attendance List that will be circulated at the next two meetings.

MEET ALAN YOUNG

Alan Young and his team of volunteers have been working to restore vegetation along the sand dunes to help stop sand erosion on our beaches.

The Bitter-bush Blue Butterfly, once seen right along our coastal dunes has all but disappeared.

Alan and his team have identified the 'Bitter Bush' (Adriana quadripartita) as a host plant essential for their survival and now conducts extensive planting of the Bitter Plant particularly through the Lot 101 area (dunes located west of the Glenelg Sewage plant).

This is one example of the many projects being undertaken by Alan and his team.

Who's to blame?
Alan is not about laying blame for what's happened... 'what's done is done,' he says.

Above: Bitter–bush Blue Butterfly. Below: LOT 101.

'Let's work together as a community - not just the coastal community or the Adelaide community but the whole State, to help solve the problem'.

How you can help?
It's easy please sign up for Alan Young's West Beach Coastal Newsletter by emailing Alan at alan.young8@bigpond.com It's informative, keeping you up to date with the health of our beaches.

Our goal
To reach 2,000 subscribers by the end of 2024 to help spread the word.

This, we believe, is the only way we're going to get the Government to sit down and listen.

Please sign up today email alan.young8@bigpond.com

Hi Kidman Parkers

Tik Tok has infiltrated Bookmart in a “good different way”

On one Bookmart shift one week ago, three separate groups of new customers referred to having heard about our Bookmart from a Tik Tok influencers post. The influencer had visited Bookmart the previous Sat and took some vision and shared it with her followers.

Our two Bookmart volunteers asked the third group (who were from Mawson Lakes) to actually show us the Tok Tok post on their mobile phone. It consisted of the influencer providing an impressive 60 sec post of video of our signage, shelving and book areas with a very complimentary audio about our Bookmart “range of books, fantastic prices and well laid out”

These three groups of two (all young females and avid readers) will very likely be regular customers from here, as each group seemed very positive about their visit.
