Rotarian David Simpson with Guest Speaker, Robert Davis, who spoke on the Clipper Ship, city of Adelaide.

The world's oldest composite clipper ship (wooden hull on iron frames).

Purpose built in Sunderland, UK in 1864, to carry passengers and cargo to and from the city of Adelaide, South Australia, and named after the city. The City of Adelaide undertook 23 return voyages between London and Adelaide.The only surviving sailing ship to have given regular service between the United Kingdom and South Australia, and only one of two surviving composite clipper ships in the world—the other is the famous, younger, Cutty Sark.

Today almost quarter of a million Australians can trace their heritage to passengers and crew of the City of Adelaide.

On the 6th August 1864 the City of Adelaide began her maiden voyage to South Australia when she left London and proceeded to Plymouth to collect more passengers. After six days sailing, she was sighted off Plymouth about 10:00am on the 12th August. About 1:00pm the remaining passengers sailed out to her by small boat and boarded her. The City of Adelaide departed at about 4:00pm the same day bound for Adelaide under the command of Captain David Bruce.

The following description of the ship and voyage appeared in a number of Adelaide newspapers including the South Australian Advertiser of 9 November 1864:[1]

The City of Adelaide.—It is many years ago since Captain Bruce took up his station on the berth from Adelaide to London, and after giving general satisfaction in the Irene, he resolved to build expressly for the trade a new vessel in which all the requirements his experience could suggest should be met. The order was given to Messrs. Pile & Co.,

the eminent shipbuilders of Sunderland, and the result has been the production of a ship of which the colony may well be proud. The frame is of iron with teak wood planking, 195 feet over all, 19 feet depth of hold, and 33 feet 6 inches beam, with lines and proportions which will ensure fast sailing. Nor is speedy progress the only aim, for in her passenger appointments every means have been taken to ensure perfection. The main saloon is a handsome apartment, decorated with white and gold, and furnished with settees, tables, and sideboard of polished teak, mirrors and pianoforte add to the general effect; while a visit to the state-rooms, of which there are six on each side, show at a glance that nothing is wanting to promote the comfort of voyageurs, even down to hot water warming apparatus. While in tropical regions there are large ports to afford ventilation and light, and two excellent bathrooms for ladies and gentlemen are provided—one under the break of the poop, and the other abaft the main saloon. Her appearance to a nautical man is extremely pleasing, for while possessing the fine lines of a clipper vessel, there is a neatness about the spars and rigging which adds materially to her appearance. In the matter of people it was a mere facsimile of the old Irene— Captain Bruce on the poop, his son in the waist, and the same providore (Mr. Claxton[)] in the cabin; indeed, it seemed from this but a resuscitation of the old blue-sided trader, though a glance at the craft decided her superiority, and aroused pleasurable feelings that the Port Adelaide trade warranted the building of such a ship. Patent steering gear, patent topsails, windlass, and pumps were adopted, and it almost seems as if Captain Bruce had served his time in the Irene but to produce the beau ideal of what an Adelaide trader should be—in cargo, space liberal and ample for wool freight; in second cabin 30 and in saloon accommodation 36 passengers will find ample space. The excellence of the arrangement is highly eulogised by the passengers, of whom a number are very old colonists, who return with pleasure to Australia, and testify to the merits of Captain Bruce and his ship in our advertising columns. She left London on the 6th August, and touched afterwards at Plymouth, from which port she has made a passage of 87 days, having had light fair winds from the Channel to the Bay of Biscay; but in the early trades, instead of a continuation of favourable weather, it blew but three days from the N.E. Thirty-three days elapsed before crossing the Line, and the meridian of the Cape was passed on the 8th October, without a single incident of importance to break the monotony of the trip beyond a hurricane which assailed the ship when off the Cape de Verde Islands, in which she behaved admirably. She reached the Lightship on Monday afternoon, but as her draught of water is over 17 feet some days will elapse before she can cross the bars.

The City of Adelaide was towed up to the Port on Tuesday 15 November 1864.

The final return voyage took place in 1887.

With the arrival of steamships, the City of Adelaide was sold into the north American timber trade, where it worked for six years as a cargo ship.

It saw its next 30 years as an isolation hospital near Southampton, before being taken over by the Royal Navy and used as a drill ship, and as Naval Volunteer Reserve Club rooms on the River Clyde in Scotland.

In 1989 it was moved onto a private slip in Irvine, where it remained until rescued by Australian volunteers and brought to Port Adelaide in 2014.

Rotary West Beach

Hi avid Bulletin Readers

Two snaps at our recent BBQ at Bunnings.
Our Board had approved a Donation of $1500 from the BBQ proceeds to assist SA Sea Rescue Squadron to cover costs of their First Aid Courses for their volunteers, and uniforms and protective clothing. It was a very successful BBQ so it covered that Donation. Their assistant Treasurer Connor O'Brien has thanked us for that assistance and visited at the BBQ to leave some SASRS signage for the BBQ tables. It is great that we can spread our wings to assist our WBR Community Partners. Connor also attended our last Friends of Rotary meeting to represent SASRS.

The first photo outlines a change in volunteer momentum with the support of Volunteers from our Friends of Rotary. Two of the volunteers were Ben Whitehouse and Clive Turner, and in the previous shift was Frank Bunnik….all helping WBR from the ranks our FoR.
Frank is also involved with Meals on Wheels and support for the International Committee.
Also Ben has joined our WBR Engagement Committee as an ex-officio and will be helping with an exciting up coming project….more later!!

In the other photo is our Tiggy getting into the spirit of the occasion with his Vanuatu hat

Cheers
From our WBR Roving Reporter

Rob Stocker is currently revisiting his flying skills at the Adelaide Soaring Club (Gawler Areodrome). Since the start of October he has completed a number of aero-tow flights concentrating on launching (optional) and landing (mandatory), thermalling, soaring and circuit management. The photo shows Rob having just completed a 14 minute instructional flight in the club's DG 505 Elan two-seat glider with a smooth launch and landing. The aircraft has a glide ratio of around 40:1 and is very sensitive to thermals (updrafts) and to control input. The "golf cart" is used to return the plane to the launching point.

RARE - Rotary Repurposing Equipment Australia

About

Rotary Australia Repurposing Equipment (RARE) project is a volunteer-based recycling facility used to collect and redistribute goods, principally donated by companies, hospitals and educational institutions. The goods it distributes are destined for developing countries and to disadvantaged individuals in the local community.

Recently, a working bee was held at the 2 RARE warehouses at Edinburgh Parks. Our West Beach Rotarians were chosen for their high skill sets to sort out some hi-tech delicate equipment. Photos say it all.

Past District Governor Ed King lead from the front. And no, it is dust on the seats 😂

No task is too great for this group. Are they trying out these seats for future use? 😂🤣 Have we found our calling?
